

see him here, so I am going to ask somebody who has been supporting these amendments to raise money for education. Is there anybody...oh, Senator Chizek, you have been on some of those amendments to raise money for education, haven't you?

SENATOR CHIZEK: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Are you in favor of keeping the exemption for these jets?

SENATOR CHIZEK: No.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. Where is Senator Withem? Let me ask Senator Vard Johnson. Senator Vard Johnson.

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Vard, would you respond?

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Johnson, have you been on any of those amendments that would raise money that would include assistance to the public schools, not just the university now?

SENATOR V. JOHNSON: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you. Senator Ashford, may I ask you a question?

SPEAKER BARRETT: Senator Ashford.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: The same question, have you been on those amendments that would increase aid to schools, not just the university?

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Are you in favor of this exemption for the jet planes?

SENATOR ASHFORD: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Members of the Legislature, when I see this kind of activity, if the exemption stays in here, I am not going to give another vote for any of these education bills. We have been playing too much now, and too many deals have been cut. There are people who have allowed themselves to wear the cloak of liberality and be the supporters of education, but at the same time, they are going to take advantage of people, such as
